COVID Update

Our situation remains unchanged since our last edition two weeks ago. There have been no new positive tests and the potential end date for the current outbreak is April 1st, which is this coming Saturday. We are hoping all remains calm until then. The new safety protocols but in place after the last Outbreak will remain in place at least until Saturday.

Staff in the Health Center will be masking. Staff on second floor which is now in outbreak will wear N95 masks and face shields. Visitors will be wearing a mask in Health Center and encouraged to wear a Face shield. All departments are also encourage to wear a mask again. Westview can remain mask free if they so choose.

COVID Community Level Data

The DHS State Community Activity Levels map for Friday, March 24, 2023 shows we are holding our own from the one in our last edition. There are now 6 counties showing Medium levels, down from 9 just two weeks ago. Curiously, four are in the far Northern part of the state, just opposite of the last map we published. There are two counties showing High levels, up from none, a couple of weeks ago. 64 counties are now showing Low levels of COVID, up from just 63 two weeks ago. This report continues a trend away from negative reports. Let's hope this continues.

The Leprechauns Were Out and About on St. Patty's Day

On Friday March 17th the Irish ruled at Schmitt Woodland Hills and everyone was Irish, at least for the day. During the morning at Friendly Chat, the residents gathered in the 2nd floor lounge area for coffee and treats, and of course some lively "chat".

Later in the day, we had a surprise for our residents as well. Two of our Activity Department staff presented a special Irish treat for the residents. Sharon Moore played the piano and Aubrey Olson sang Danny Boy. What an amazing blessing to have these ladies on our staff at Schmitt Woodland Hills. The talent that they both have and are willing to share is beyond words.
